

ExportMe[™] is an IBM[®] DOORS[®] accelerator product from River North Solutions

ExportMe[™] for DOORS and RPE

Document publishing automation, simplification and standardization

What is ExportMe?

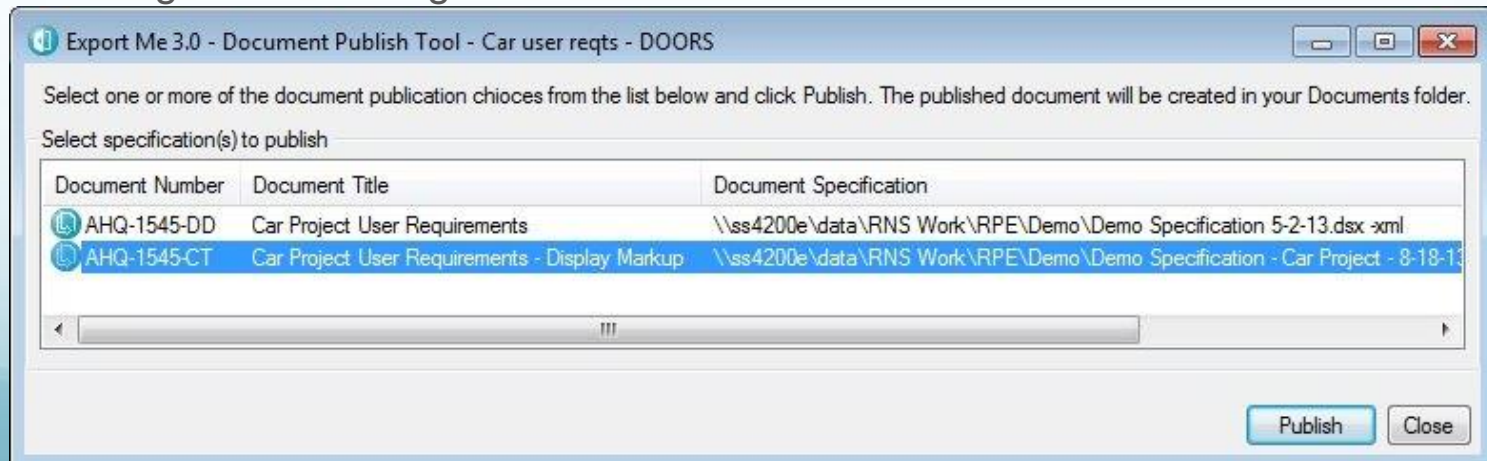

- ExportMe automates document publishing from DOORS and other Rational tools using Rational Publishing Engine (RPE)...to a single-click
- Together with RPE, sharply reduces or eliminates manual post-processing
- Enables publishing multiple documents from a DOORS module in a single operation that includes data from DOORS, Rhapsody, others
- Radically reduces the number of RPE document specifications needed to produce all required project requirement documents
- ExportMe is an IBM Rational DOORS accelerator product, part of the Smarter Solutions product line from River North Solutions (see slide 3)

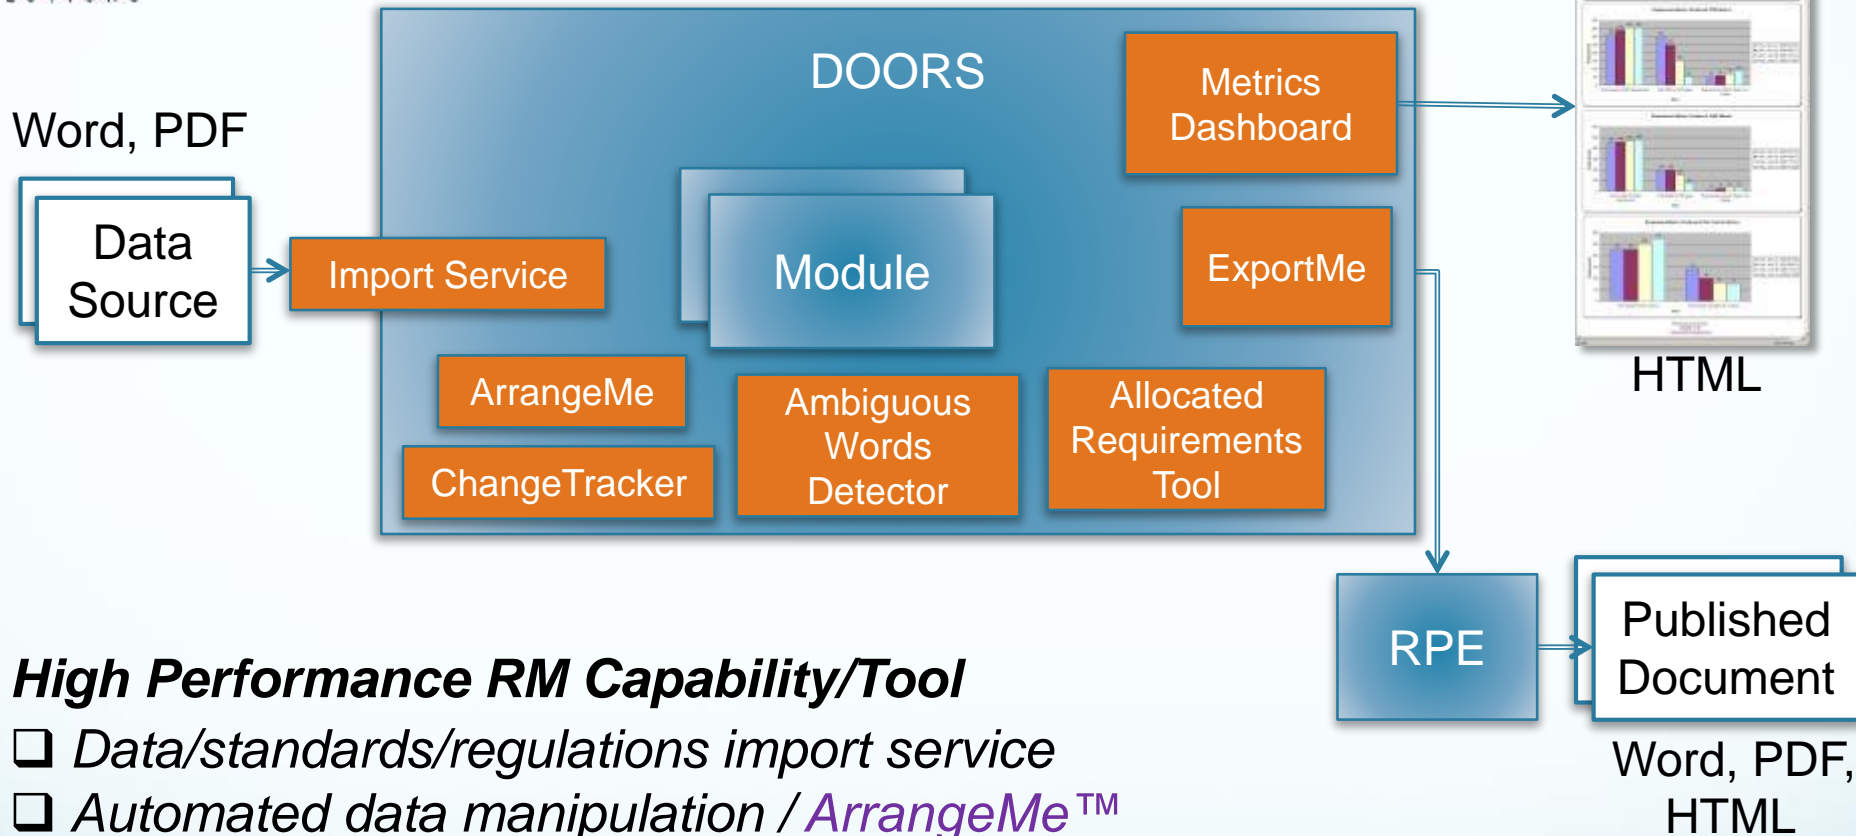

Accelerate Requirements Management & Document Publishing

ExportMe – Value Proposition

- Single-click publishing
 - No RPE/doc publishing user training required
 - Automatic document format consistency
 - Publish multiple documents in one operation using multiple sources (e.g. DOORS, Rhapsody)
 - Avg of 7.5 to 1 RM document publishing effort savings on project
- Smart publishing – single Document Specification for all published documents
 - Drives # of RPE Document Specifications to minimum
 - NuScale Power 360 -> 1
 - Westinghouse: 800 -> 1
 - Significantly reduces Document Specification maintenance, supportability, sustainability and configuration management costs

Frequently Used River North Service

- Accelerate time to production-ready RPE template
 - When considering training internal staff on RPE template authoring, consider the “Use It or Lose It” principle
 - Outsourcing brings far greater ROI if publishing requirements are stable...because template authoring skills only needed infrequently
 - Only if staff will be continuously using template authoring skills is there a legitimate ROI for training internal staff
 - Additionally, leveraging River North’s expertise will drive number of RPE templates to a minimum
 - Eases configuration management, maintainability, supportability of templates
